| 907 MAIN, COMING TO CENTRAL SQUARE IN SPRING 2020

The much-anticipated boutique hotel that's been under construction in Central Square has announced that it's opening in Spring 2020. 907 Main will include new restaurant, The Dial, that's being touted as "an urban eatery and bar with a mid-century modern vibe offering eclectic food and drink," according to a press release.

Toscanini's Ice Cream will make its return to the space where it was originally housed, and Praliné French Patisserie will also be added to the hotel's culinary offerings. Guests can head to the outdoor rooftop terrace, Blue Owl, as well for inventive cocktails with a clear view of Cambridge. Find more details here, and follow along on Instagram for even more updates.
