

MANGALIS HOTEL GROUP PRESS RELEASE

Mangalis Hotel Group (NOOM Hotels, SEEN Hotels and YAAS Hotels) is pleased to announce the full reopening of its hotels on July 1st.

Today, it seemed obvious to us to be operational quickly to welcome our customers in pleasant and reassuring conditions but without compromise, and to focus on our core business: hospitality.

The group's hotels resume their activities with the best guarantees of safety and hygiene, both for our customers and our employees. To do this, the group worked and implemented a common and rigorous health protocol (available on our websites and transmitted to customers).

Thanks to all the teams on the field, the group offers a redesigned customer journey on arrival, during the stay and on departure. The catering offer has been revised to adapt to the constraints of distancing and available in room service.

Our teams and our investors are united around a common objective: to help boost the economy and support customers in resuming their trips. This is achieved through our commitment to health and safety, but also through unfailing support for our customers, whom we are delighted to find.

Stay Safe
