

BostonChefs.comSM

the insider's guide to dining

July 7, 2020

By: Staff

UMV: 6,479

AN UPDATE FROM 907 MAIN

After some pandemic-related construction delays, Central Square's forthcoming boutique hotel, 907 Main, will be opening in September 2020. The property, which blends the building's original 19th century architecture with sleek, contemporary style, boasts 67 guest rooms, a two-bedroom penthouse, an on-site restaurant (The Dial, helmed by chef Justin Urso formerly of Catalyst and L'Espalier) and a rooftop bar (Blue Owl, which may be opening a little later).

They're already accepting room reservations if you've got friends coming to town in the fall or want to book yourself a little staycation. There are a variety of packages from which to choose, depending on your party and your game plan – the Paws Up Pet Package if your pooch could use a little R&R, the Relax & Renew Package if you need to wind down and recharge, and the Dinner & a Movie where you can enjoy a socially distant meal and take in a flick on their open-air, rooftop big screen. You can peruse all your options here and plan a getaway without having to go too far.

Keep an eye out for updates and additional info as the opening gets closer.

###

<https://www.bostonchefs.com/news/2020/07/07/an-update-from-907-main/>