

THE ELIOT HOTEL

Everyone knows Boston is a sports city. Between the Red Sox, Celtics, Bruins and Patriots, we have a team to cheer on all year round. And who can forget one of the biggest events in running, the Boston Marathon!

For the first time since 2019, the Boston Marathon is back in April. Every year, the city looks forward to welcoming the Marathon runners and the scores of people who come to cheer them on. There is no comparison to the energy along the Marathon route, as countless fans show their support for the nearly 20,000 runners. We are lucky enough to have a front row view as the runners pass the hotel about half a mile from the finish line. Join us on Monday, April 18th, in showing our support. We can't wait to cheer them!

After a slight delay to the season, Opening Day at Fenway is almost here! On April 15th, our beloved Boston Red Sox welcome the Minnesota Twins to iconic Fenway Park. April 15th is also Jackie Robinson Day, when the MLB commemorates the day Robinson broke the color barrier in Major League Baseball. Each year, coaches and players add Robinson's #42 to their uniform for this historic day. 2022 is the 75th anniversary and this year, to celebrate, that #42 will be in Dodger Blue, no matter the primary colors of the uniforms. Opening Day kicks off a week-long stretch of home games, including one on April 18th, Marathon Monday. Fans can cheer on both the Red Sox and the runners passing by in Kenmore Square.

Boston in April has so much to offer, we hope you have a chance to visit us!
